

SLS Flowgen Mini Digital Dry Bath

With its compact construction, broad temperature range, and multiple block options, the mini digital dry bath is the perfect tool for laboratory incubations. The simple touch pad controls and a digital display provide for "set and walk away" temperature selection and unrivalled accuracy.

- Compact, fits in the palm of your hand (less than 12cm wide)
- Exchangeable blocks for 0.2 to 50mL tubes (sold separately)
- Clear cover ensures temperature uniformity
- Simple touchpad, digital control
- Supplied with block lifter

SLS Flowgen Digital Dry Baths

Provide accurate "set and walk away" digital temperature selection, eliminating the need for external thermometers and repetitive fine tuning of a temperature control knob. Simply enter the desired temperature on the digital touchpad and the dry bath provides accurate temperature with real time monitoring that continuously maintains the selected temperature. A digital timer is built into the touchpad display, that can be used to alert the user that a chosen time interval has timed out.

- Include an easy to use block lifter with a temperature insulated handle
- Built in user re-calibration function, to guarantee long term temperature accuracy
- Temperature range: ambient +5 to 150°C
- Accuracy: ±0.2°C
- Uniformity: ±0.2°C
- Increments: 0.1°C
